Meet Our Newest Chef

Bringing unmistakable flair to our picnic fare is Blue Sky Picnic Chef Thomas Murray. The native Northern Virginian's sure touch with just the right spice was honed by study in California's Culinary Institute of America, Napa Valley and by his tenure as Executive Chef and Sous Chef for such restaurants as at Tower Club -Tyson's Corner, Design Cuisine, Washington, D.C., and for many foreign dignitaries, kings, presidents, and ambassadors, as well as world renowned celebrities.

For over 25 years, Thomas developed cuisines to please everyone's taste. Whether it is the dinner for twenty, or the elaborate reception for five thousand. Thomas can work wonders in even the smallest spaces—he made something of a specialty of catering on private jets. But he's just as skilled at creating parties for hundreds here at home, as he did for major metropolitan caterers and as he does now for Blue Sky.
